

Triumph Bonneville/Bonneville SE

- Modern interpretation of classic British parallel twin
- Low seat height for accessible and manageable ride
- Cast alloy wheels contribute to agile handling and authentic 70s look
- SE version offers higher specification and two-tone paint option
- Two-year unlimited mileage warranty as standard

Named after the venue where Triumph broke numerous land speed records in the 1950s, the Bonneville is, for many people, the most iconic Triumph of all time.

Originally introduced in 1959, the Bonneville was the sporting bike of the day and the bike to beat in production-based racing right through to the 1970s.

Today's Bonneville takes the style and spirit of those famous bikes of the 1970s and blends in thoroughly modern engineering to create a classic British twin for the 21st century rider.

The air-cooled 865cc power plant is a modern design but styled to look like an authentic parallel-twin of the 1960s, right down to the dummy pushrods and "carburetors" that hide modern fuel injectors.

But beneath the retro looks lies a very current and usable motorcycle that appeals to new and experienced motorcyclists alike. Thumb the electric starter and today's Bonneville comes to life instantly and with the distinctive tone that only a parallel twin can deliver. A healthy 67bhp and 50 lb-ft. of torque give the modern day Bonneville peppy performance that is at home both in the city and on the open road.

Lightweight 17" cast alloy wheels make the Bonneville agile and easy to ride, while the low 29.1" seat height makes it accessible to motorcyclists of all ages and experience. Short fenders and stylish chrome megaphone exhausts complete the 1970s look.

The higher specification Bonneville SE adds a tachometer, chromed tank badge and brushed alloy engine cases for added practicality and even more classic look.

Color options reflect the traditional styling of the Bonneville. The standard model features metallic paint for 2012, with Phantom Black and Aurum Gold options. The Bonneville SE is available in Phantom Black or two dual-color alternatives: Intense Orange with Phantom Black or Pacific Blue with Fusion White. The two-tone options also feature hand-painted coachlines.

A wide range of official Triumph accessories are also available for the Bonneville line, including alternative seats, practical screens and leather luggage.

ENDS